All,

Please see attached for my suggested edits.

Looking forward to moving the field forward in the next phase of the collaboration.

Best,

Rusty

I am adding Rusty to this email about the EPA and Unilever press release. I've added edits, inserted the quote Julia sent and added a draft quote for Rusty. All, please review and let this group know your feedback.

Thank you all, Monica

Hi Sammy & colleagues

Looks good, thank you. Suggested quote from me:

Via its collaboration with thought leaders at the US EPA, Unilever's safety scientists have built capability in applying NAMs to ensure its products are safe and sustainable by design without new animal testing. As part of this new agreement, and by sharing the data and knowledge generated, we aim to help build confidence in applying NAMs to protect people and our environment with the broader scientific and regulatory safety communities globally.

If we can get a 'version 2' whilst waiting for Rusty's quote, I will pass it through Unilever's communications lead.

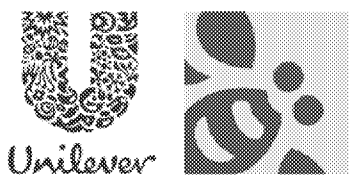

Best, Julia

Thanks Paul, looks really good, no tweaks to be suggested from me. I like the way the goal is articulated at the end, it would be great to use that text if possible.
All the best,
Matt

Dear Sammy & Monica,

Many thanks for the first draft. I've made a few additions (attached). I think it would be good to include a few more specific details of the collaboration (see text at end) but appreciate we want to keep it 'press-relevant'.

Am cc'ing Julia for a quote (we need Rusty to do the same) and Matt (if he would like to tweak it a bit?).

Cheers,

Paul

Hello Monica and Paul,

I've attached a draft press release here, let me know if you have any edits and I'm happy to work with you.

Hope you have a good one!

Best, Sammy
